

Irony Cartoon

Purpose: The purpose of this assignment is for you to practice visual analysis of irony.

Method: You will achieve this purpose by creating a comic strip that relates to anything from English I Pre-AP.

Details: This assignment is due at the beginning of class on Wednesday, January 20th for “A” day or Thursday, January 21st for “B” day, and is worth 20 points.

Procedure:

1. Choose one of the three types of irony in the notes handout on the back of this sheet
 - a. Save this for your reference.
2. Create a single comic strip of 1-5 frames that accurately portrays your choice of irony.
 - a. It should be no larger than a sheet of printer paper.
3. Your cartoon may visually depict the type of irony that you have chosen, or you may use text to convey your meaning, but it must relate to something we have done or discussed in class this year.
4. Whether you visually or textually represent the irony within your cartoon strip, you must label the type of irony that you have chosen and explain why the situation is ironic.
5. Your grade will be based on accuracy and visual aesthetics and clarity in the explanation. Make sure to label the type of irony and proofread it all!